

City spurs central DMV site

PLEASANTON — If Department of Motor Vehicles builds an office in this city, it should be located in the civic center area, according to a consensus of the city council and planning commission.

City Manager Bill Edgar brought up the topic because the DMV has been casting about for an office site, he said. The notion in forming the civic center was to put as many civic buildings in one area as possible and Edgar wanted to know if the elected and appointed officials still felt that way.

Planning Commission Chairman Bob Butler said that the San Jose Civic Center has worked out well with its variety of city and county offices. Commissioner Walt Wood backed him up, saying it's "nice to be able to park your car and walk to various offices."

Commissioner David Shepherd also backed the idea of locating the DMV in the civic center. Mayor Robert Philcox did not dissent, but felt that such offices are traffic generators and ought to be put where the streets can handle them.

Edgar observed that the city had hoped the post office would locate in the civic center and he mentioned his disappointment when the federal government put it on Black Avenue and Santa Rita Road.

In the case of the federal post office as well as the state DMV office, the city can only give its advice where it thinks the buildings ought to be located.

Other government jurisdictions are not subject to the city government's building controls as private developers are.

The only rumored site so far for the DMV office has been Valley Avenue near Hopyard Road where developer Chris Berattis said that at one time he had hoped to get a DMV office or similar type of office for the one acre public and institutional zone next to his proposed Oak Tree Center.

The joint meeting between city council and planning commission yielded another idea related to civic property Monday night. Councilman William Herlihy said Pleasanton should imitate Livermore's recent success in applying for a grant to gain some form of public transit in the city. In Livermore's case, a large grant was obtained to buy a few acres at Stanley and Murrieta boulevards for a future BART terminal. The property might otherwise be developed commercially and it was the city's chance to get a choice transit location cheaply.

Herlihy said Pleasanton might not necessarily want to acquire land for a BART station with a grant, but no doubt could find some way to use it in order to further the cause of public transit in the city.

Frustrated water board fires agency engineers

Ray Watson, Bob Brown note cracking and settling.

PLEASANTON — The engineering firm responsible for a $16 million cost overrun on the proposed wastewater disposal pipeline was fired Friday night by a 5-1 vote of the joint water agency board.

The Livermore-Amador Valley Water Management Agency (LAVWMA) took the action to fire John Carollo Engineers after learning Wednesday that pipeline project costs had been underestimated. A secondary engineering report showed overall costs had jumped 60 per cent from earlier estimates, while the Valley's share rose 62 per cent, from $8.4 million to $13.5 million.

The action could cost the project four to six months in lost engineering time, according to project director Dan Murphy.

Four new firms will be considered to replace Carollo. They are Montgomery Engineers, Brown and Caldwell, Boyle Engineers, and CH2 M. Hill.

Because of the switch and its accompanying time delays, LAVWMA directors expressed little hope it would be possible to offer the pipeline measure to voters again March 8. The deadline for finalizing a resolution to that effect is Dec. 17.

LAVWMA does not own the data accumulated by Carollo, but has the right to reproduce and use that information. Carollo has received $230,000 for their engineering research work.

Under terms of the new agreement, Carollo could be hired as a subcontractor by the new lead firm with prior board approval. Carollo then could use their accumulated information and expertise to assist in the engineering work left to be completed.

If LAVWMA directors approve an amendment to the joint powers agreement under which the agency operates, they could order that a pipeline with 15.62 million gallons per day (mgd) capacity be built without voter approval.

Measure U, defeated by Valley voters Nov. 2, would have provided $8.4 million locally to build a 19.72 mgd pipeline, with 4.1 mgd set aside for industrial users in Livermore and Pleasanton. After learning of the cost estimate overrun, LAVWMA Chairman Robert Philcox said even if Measure U had passed, a second vote would have been needed to cover the increased cost estimate.

Pleasanton has indicated it would not approve a pipeline project that left no capacity for industrial reserve. Work needed to make the 15.62 mgd pipeline larger at a later date to accommodate industrial capacity would cost nearly as much as the 19.72 mgd project.

But even without a vote in March, board directors must decide by March 31 the size of the line, so engineers designing the super-sewer extension can adjust for the added capacity.

VALLEY NEWS BRIEFS

Chamber voting ends

PLEASANTON — Balloting for a 1977 slate of officers for the Chamber of Commerce ends Tuesday.

A contest exists for the office of second vice president, with Mike Harris and Joyce Getty listed as nominees. For the board of directors, seven candidates vie for four vacancies.

William Hirst, local attorney, is the lone nominee for the office of president. John Weisser, Bank of America branch manager, is the only candidate for first vice president.

Winners in the election will be announced Tuesday evening, when chamber members and guests gather at the Pleasanton Hotel for a 5:30 p.m. "Christmas Party." The chamber has also scheduled an "open meeting" at Hap's Restaurant, at noon.

Supervisor picks aides

Virginia Loewe of Livermore and Chandra Himman of Fremont have been announced as aides to Supervisor-elect Valerie Raymond. Himman will handle most of the communication with constituents and Loewe will concentrate on research.

The two aides will assume duties after Raymond takes office early in January. Each will share in the one full-time equivalent salary around $13,000 which is paid by the county. Raymond also plans to select a full-time secretary from the county's civil service lists, rounding out the two full-time staff positions to which she is entitled.

Holiday packages late

If you're Christmas packages aren't in the mail yet, they're late. Friday was the deadline, according to the Postal Service, for sending holiday parcels.

Packages may still be mailed, but there's no assurance they'll arrive at their destination by Dec. 25.

Christmas cards should be mailed by this Friday, the Postal Department says.

An Eastern strike by United Parcel workers has hampered delivery of packages this holiday season, say postal officials. That's why the mailing deadlines are so important, they insist.

Do kids want gym?

Will the kiddies get involved in a kinder gym program, full of development of their motor skills and creative movement?

That's what Livermore Area Recreation and Park District officials want to find out.

They've scheduled a meeting Dec. 14 to get input from interested citizens, before deciding whether such a program is really wanted. Kinder gym programs usually help the young tykes become more aware of their body in an effort at learning self assurance.

The meeting to discuss the program for pre-schoolers will be 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Recreation Center, 8th and H streets.

Pleasanton School site is shifting

Pleasanton School is ever-so-slowly sliding down the hill and the attendant cracking and sinking has become more pronounced.

While the sliding action, caused by underlying soil and possibly drainage from higher elevation properties, is no threat to students and staff personnel at the school, it has now triggered possible hiring of a soils engineer to investigate the problem.

Cracking of walkways and settling is clearly visible at the east end of "B" wing.

Two supports on the south side of "B" wing have 6-by-6 wood posts replaced next to them to safely hold-up the over-hang of a porch.

There are cracks in the walkway on the south side near a hallway entrance and small areas on both sides of "B" wing that have settled a couple inches other portions of the walkway surface.

The Pleasanton district staff was directed to meet with architect Ron Martyn on Wednesday to review the problem and secure the services of a soils engineer.

The school site is one of the oldest in Southern Alameda County. Original buildings were constructed on the hill above First Street in Pleasanton and present buildings are situated on a gently rolling hillside.

Trustees agreed that the problem has existed for years but has become more visible in the last couple of years.

The district has also been involved with another soil problem, though not related to that at Pleasanton School.

Trustees recently denied a claim by the owner of the former post office property, located next to the district office property at 123 Main Street.

School trustee seats attract vet, newcomer

One newcomer and one veteran of valley school board politics may be among the first to file for the most of vacancies coming up next March.

Murray School District has two board members whose terms expire in March while Pleasanton Joint School District and Amador Valley Joint High School District have three each. Sunol Glen will have two openings and San Ramon, in Contra Costa County, three.

In addition, South County Community College District will have elections in Trustee Areas 1, 2 and 4. However, those areas are in San Leandro and San Lorenzo.

Linda Cooley, a resident of the Val Vista area of Pleasanton and a member of the Citizens Advisory Committee and Parent-Administrative Council, told The Times Thursday she is considering candidacy for the Murray board.

Gene Hinton, a long-time participant in Murray district affairs, may also seek a seat on the board.

The terms of Dr. Ted Woy, board president, and Linda Jeffery are up in March. Dr. Woy has said he will not run again but Mrs. Jeffery "probably will."

There was a report Friday that members of Residents-In-Action plan to support a candidate or candidates for the board.

No other prospective candidates have surfaced in the Pleasanton, Sunol Glen, Amador or San Ramon districts.

Forms for declaring candidacy and for the nomination of candidates for the board elections will be available Thursday, Dec. 9 from the County Superintendent of Schools, 224 W. Winton Ave., Hayward, or the Registrar of Voters, Room G-1, 1225 Fallon St., Oakland.

Pleasanton scans zoning limits

PLEASANTON — Land-use decisions on Hopyard and Santa Rita Roads, and permission for churches to function within industrial tracts will provide the city council with some lively discussion at its scheduled Monday session.

Dr. Douglas Huntze is appealing a decision by the city manager calling for an environmental impact study on a neighborhood retail center which Huntze wants to build on Santa Rita Road near its confluence with Tassajara Road.

City staff observes that "movement of commercial and industrial traffic in the general area" of that intersection was the chief reason for requiring an environmental statement. Residents in Fairlands and Pleasanton Meadows have recently expressed concern over bicycle and pedestrian access to that proposed retail over bicycle and pedestrian access to that proposed retail hub.

On another Santa Rita Road item, the council will review the recommendation of its planning commission calling for rezoning of 16 acres outside the city limits, just north of the Santa Rita-Tassajara intersection. Rezoning is a step often taken prior to formal annexation of the parcel.

The land-use designated for that parcel would be Commercial Service.

Owners of 66 acres on Hopyard Road, adjacent to the Youth Sports Park, are appealing the city manager's call for an environmental impact report on a proposed land-use change.

Thomas G. McManus wants his property designated for "medium density residential." It is presently marked for "parks and recreation." The Pleasanton General Plan saw that acreage as a logical extension of the Youth Sports Park, a narrow 100-acre stretch east of Hopyard and flanking the Pleasanton Canal.

In a third item, council will review the planning commission's action allowing "churches and other religious institutions" as well as "private and public schools" as conditional uses in general industrial districts. City staff agrees with the church activity in industrial tracts, but not with school activity.

The matter came up when one religious group sought permission to function within part of the former Volkswagen plant on Johnson Industrial Drive.

Police close bar after hours

LIVERMORE — Police officers conducting a security check of businesses early Thursday discovered people allegedly consuming liquor inside the Farmers' Exchange, 190 South J St. after the 2 a.m. curfew, police reported.

Officers said doors had been locked front and back, and a blanket had been draped over the front window. Police said they looked inside and saw several people at the bar with glasses in hand.

Five persons were found to be drinking inside, and six glasses on the bar were cold when retrieved by officers, police reported.

A copy of the final police report is to be forwarded to the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control for possible action.

Two youths roughed up in attempted robbery

LIVERMORE — Two 14-year-old Livermore High School students were hit and pushed into puddles of mud by two men who attempted to rob the youths, police reported.

The students told police they were walking across the football field after lunch Thursday when two men approached and asked for money. When they said they had none, the men grabbed the youths, threw a couple of punches and then pushed them into mud puddles, police said.

The first suspect is described as a black man about 20, 6-foot-1, 120 pounds. Suspect two is a white man about 21, 5-foot-9, 130 pounds with brown hair.

Alleged speeder arrested after chase

PLEASANTON — A 20-year-old Livermore man was arrested after a high-speed chase on Santa Rita Road early Friday, police reported.

Officer Hank Perry radioed that he was in pursuit of a vehicle northbound on Santa Rita Road about 2:15 Friday morning. Fellow officer Craig Veteran used his car as a roadblock, but the suspect allegedly went around the patrol car and continued on.

Veteran jumped in his car and joined in the chase, pulling in front of the suspect vehicle and slowly applying his brakes until the car stopped. The suspect's car sustained minor front end damage when it hit the curb while slowing, police said.

Randolph Stephen Hopkins, 20, of 1413 Portola Ave. in Livermore was issued citations for driving 70 mph in a 45 mph zone and resisting arrest.

$1,000 in papers taken from Black Avenue home

PLEASANTON — A Black Avenue resident reports that a metal box taken from his home contained important papers worth $1,000 to him but no one else, police said Friday.

James Kester said the box had been removed from the home in the last month or so. There are no suspects.

New trial ordered in newspaper suit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The 9th U.S. Court of Appeals today ordered a new trial to determine damages resulting from violation of antitrust laws through price fixing by a Southern Alameda County newspaper publisher.

The suit was brought by independent dealers against the Daily Review Inc. and an affiliated firm, publishers of the Hayward Daily Review, Fremont Argus and other papers; their owner, Floyd Sparks, and three employees.

The dealers alleged the publishers had violated antitrust laws by restraining trade, had used dealership contracts to fix resale prices and impose territorial restraints; had unlawfully terminated the independent dealer system and attempted to monopolize the newspaper trade.

U.S. District Court Judge Charles B. Renfrew on Sept. 24, 1974, found there had been price fixing, but refused to award damages or grant a permanent injunction. He held for the defendants on the other claims.

The appeals court noted that the Daily Review — which changed its price policy after the lower court ruling — did not appeal the price fixing holding.

It affirmed the lower court's findings except for ordering a new trial on damages and directed dissolution of a temporary injunction granted pending appeal under which defendants had agreed to continue to sell papers to the dealers.

Center of the dispute was the termination in July of 1973 of the publisher's independent newspaper dealer system for home delivery and converting it to a system of employee - distributors. Papers were to be sold directly to the independent carriers. Each terminated dealer was offered a job as a salaried district manager. The suit was filed in August of 1973.

Wine prices not so high

Friday's story in The Times dealing with the local effect of removing "price maintenance" from retail liquor sales listed local vintner Joe Concannon's famed 1971 Petite Sirah at $3.33 wholesale, $5 retail.

Those prices, Concannon later told The Times, apply to his "Limited Bottling" 1971 vintage. His regular 1971 and 1972 vintage Petite Sirah varietals wholesale for $2.33, and are available at liquor stores for $3.50.

Valley obituaries

Katheryn Barnes

Katheryn L. Barnes, 92, a native of Russia, died Wednesday in Livermore.

She was the widow of Frank M. Barnes, and is survived by son Glenfal Barnes of Pasadena; daughter Yvette Smith, Pittsburg; brother Rudolph Sell, Nebraska; and grandchildren Richard Fuller, Livermore; Mary K. Smalley, San Leandro, and Collett John, Pasadena.

She also leaves 12 great-grandchildren.

Family services were held Thursday night at Callaghan Mortuary, 3833 East Ave., Livermore. Funeral services will be tomorrow in Lincoln, Nebraska.

She will be buried in Lincoln Memorial Park Cemetery, Nebraska.

Henry Forsman

Henry O. Forsman, 84, a native of San Francisco and 12 year Livermore resident, died Wednesday.

He is survived by his wife Clara, and daughters Janith M. Johnson, Livermore, and Beverly C. Bolce, Oakland.

Sisters Ann Ahlgren of Berkeley, and Marie Sorensen of Fresno also survive.

Mr. Forsman was a member of the Berkeley Masonic Lodge.

Funeral services were held Saturday at the Callaghan Mortuary, 3833 East Ave., Livermore. Interment was private.

Pearl Stanley

Pearl Newton Stanley of Livermore died Dec. 3,

1976, in a local hospital. She was 77 and a 70-year resident of the valley.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday, Dec. 7, 1976, at 2 p.m., from the chapel of the Graham - Hitch Mortuary, 675 St. John St., Pleasanton.

Interment will follow in Pleasanton Memory Gardens.

Friends may call at the mortuary after 12 noon Monday.

Marie Delucchi

Marie Delucchi of Pleasanton died Saturday, Dec. 4, 1976, in a Castro Valley hospital. She had been a valley resident for 74 years.

Mrs. Delucchi's husband was the late James Delucchi. She is survived by two children, Paul Delucchi of Pleasanton and Verna Garibaldi of Pleasanton; two brothers, Frank Gemigrani of Fremont and Donald Spetti of Fremont, and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Delucchi was a member of the Catholic Daughters of St. Augustines Church and had been a member of St. Augustines since 1923.

Holy Rosary will be recited Monday, 7:30 p.m., at the chapel of Graham - Hitch Mortuary, 675 St. John St., Pleasanton. Mass of Christian Burial will be celebrated Tuesday, Dec. 7, at 10:30 a.m. in St. Augustines. Entombment will be in St. Augustines' Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Graham - Hitch Mortuary after 12 noon today.

Strike spurs early holiday mail appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Holiday packages that aren't in the mail yet are late. But the Postal Service says it will try to deliver Christmas treasures before Dec. 25, even though the official mailing deadline was last Friday.

Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar said Thursday, "We are concerned that people mailing packages and greetings to friends and relatives may be disappointed if they don't give us every opportunity to manage our workload during a highly unusual situation."

The Postal Service annually urges early Christmas mailing. But the appeal is more urgent this year because of a strike in 15 Eastern states against United Parcel Service, the largest parcel delivery firm.

Bailar told reporters that even a quick settlement of the strike would give little relief to the Postal Service because most United Parcel customers have already made other arrangements for transporting Christmas items.

In many cases, United Parcel customers are using the Postal Service, swelling mail volume over the customary peak levels during the holiday season.

The Postal Service's suggested deadline for mailing parcels was Friday.

LIVERMORE — It's an outfit that only Frosty the Snowman could love, but Marlin Ebert says it could protect you from nuclear fallout.

It's a zip-front jumpsuit, complete with mask and boots, that makes the wearer look like a baggy polar bear. The costume is a sign of the times — the complete nuclear holocaust suit.

For $16.95 Ebert is marketing the NucleClean kit. It includes the jumpsuit and boots, made of lightweight olefin, two surgical-type masks, and brushes, sponges, towels and detergent to wash fallout particles from the body.

"I'm not a doom-crier," Ebert said. "But, I think I'm a realist...Nuclear weapons are at best disgusting, but they do exist."

The suit, if put on in time, can keep nuclear fallout particles away from the body, Ebert said.

The material, a tight-knit fabric, would keep fallout on the outside.

But it is only a protective measure, not a cure-all. The suit is designed to be worn until an individual can reach shelter or get out of the fallout area. Then the suit is disposed of and the chemicals are used to wash the body in case contamination slipped through.

The suit's only good, however, if it's put on before fallout hits the body. Luckily, Ebert said, fallout moves slowly.

If a bomb hit San Francisco, with wind at the optimum conditions, it would take an hour for the fallout to reach Livermore.

The suit is good in case of a nuclear bomb attack, but also in the event of a nuclear reactor explosion (something Ebert doesn't think very likely).

"People say, 'You're a prophet of doom. You profit from other people's misery,'" Ebert said, but he sees the need for the suit.

"I realize how we've started to decay our military posture and I see the Chinese coming on like gangbusters" in the nuclear arms race.

Ebert, who was with the Army during the Vietnam War, said the "beating" the Americans took there was a lesson to him. He now believes the U.S. is in an inferior arms position.

In August, Ebert took a chance. He left his job as a physicist in the nuclear energy division of the General Electric Company to start his business.

This is his sole means of support. He has the suits manufactured for him, and he sells them out of a small office on First Street — the Radiation Protection Corporation.

His business is just getting under way and he has made few sales, but advertising has been limited. He plans to begin a small advertising program soon, and he hopes to get a government contract.

Ebert said the idea is the result of his concern (he has suits and dried food stockpiled for himself at home) and through his knowledge of the nuclear field.

He has confidence in the safety of reactors, he's mainly concerned with nuclear warheads. With General Electric, he worked in nuclear medicine and with suits, such as he is marketing, which are used when cleaning up nuclear spills.

Other clothes could be used for protection from fallout too, Ebert said, but his suits could be readily available. A handkerchief over the mouth, a hooded raincoat and high-top boots could be fairly effective.

But the suit has an added advantage, he said: "I wore one of these on Halloween and scared the heck out of the kids."

Wet weather picture glum

SACRAMENTO (AP) — If it rains, the outlook for California farming in 1977 is fairly good, agricultural economist Eric Thor says.

If it doesn't rain, there will not be enough irrigation water next summer, and the prospects will be bad, he said in an interview Friday.

"We've had these dry periods before, and we usually come out of them," Thor said.

"It's not too unusual for it not to rain much in November. But if we go into mid-January without rain, then we've got something to worry about."

"In general, nobody is worrying too much right now except for the cattle people."

Thor said the lack of rain is causing a shortage of range grass for cattle.

He said he expects consumer prices for farm products to rise about 5 to 6 per cent next year, but more due to distribution cost increases than to farm prices.

LAVWMA fires firm

The proposed LAVWMA pipeline would tie in with the super-sewer at the Ora Loma pumping station, and carry waste from Hayward, Castro Valley and other communities to an outfall in San Francisco Bay.

LAVWMA will meet again Dec. 9 at 7 p.m. in city council chambers, 39 South Livermore Ave.

Also on Dec. 9, the Regional Water Quality Control Board will conduct two public hearings on discharge violations by the Valley.

The RWCQB will consider cease and desist orders which would stop the issuance of sewer permits by Livermore and the Valley Community Services District.

Other punitive actions, which would be ruled on later this month, could include fines up to $10,000 a day or a possible building ban Valley-wide.

Sinister students try Transylvania travelogue

Flattery gets Dracula everywhere as he charms Syblin while Dr. Seward, Jonathan and Mina stand by.

Sleeping Jonathan Harker is about to get it from his vampire fiancée.

LIVERMORE — Being sinister is a lot of work. Take vampire teth, for example. Ever try to talk with vampire teeth? Impossible, would - be vampires at Granada High School discovered with chagrin.

Luckily, somebody's father is a dentist and is fixing up the vampires with special caps so their teeth will stay in while they're declaiming on stage.

Then there's the problem of a haunted mansion. Any decent haunted mansion has to be a creepy English manor house with an imposing fireplace and a secret passageway.

If we can keep vampire teeth in, we can design a sinister house, decided the determined students, who wanted to put on "Count Dracula" Dec. 9, 10 and 11.

So far, they have used 600 feet of lumber to construct the flat frames and 60 yards of nine-foot-wide muslin to cover them. The 14-foot-high house they are building even has a working fireplace.

Costumes. You don't just throw on Dad's old suit when you're going to this much trouble to keep your teeth in. Nothing would do but to use 1930's French designer patterns for the ladies' gowns. And of course the Count will be wearing a copy of the cape worn by Bela Lugosi in the 1930 classic film.

Sinister organ music will permeate the play — performed by Eric Young. And an already unnerved audience will be further startled by ground fog, bloody apparitions and unexplainable feats of magic.

"Count Dracula" begins at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. All proceeds ($1.50 student, $2 adult) will go toward expenses for the Granada Players' annual spring musical.

Tim Huff portrays the evil count. Patty Hansen is Mina, his much-pursued intended victim.

Her fiancé, Jonathan Harker (Don Hoffman) tries to thwart Dracula's plans. Mina's uncle, Dr. Seward (Doug Woods) and Professor Van Helsing (Mike Davis) pit their medical and scientific knowledge against the famed Prince of Evil.

Character roles are filled by June Hampel as the ring-a-ding aunt, Sybil; Laura Journeay is Lucy Western, who was turned into a vampire and visits Mina to warn her of her impending doom; Scott Jackson as the ill-fated schizophrenic, Benfield.

They are assisted by Eugene Hale and Jeff Simpson as Hennessey and Wesley, the asylum attendants. Three lunatics who accompany Benfield on his many escape attempts are Ted Trudeau, Bob Falkenrath and Kurt Held.

Female vampires accompanying Dracula on his bloodthirsty jaunts are Sue Crawford, Carol Kingscott, Debra Snyder, Heidi Schultz, Betty Danielson, Janet Graff, Laura Liptai, Jennie Johnson and Miriam Brush.

The hideous stone gargoyles who come to life and haunt the Little Theatre in the presence of the King of Darkness are Bonnie Smith, Kristi Kehl and Lisa Priebat.

SRV school program

Exec interns will analyze their firms

DANVILLE — The 22 San Ramon Valley Unified School District high school students involved in the Executive High School Internship Program will commence intern led seminars at their places of placement December 10.

Each will analyze the structure of the organization he or she is working for and describe a particular problem to other assembled interns, school counselors and school board members. The sponsor-manager in charge of the business — also addresses the group on some aspect of management.

All participants in the program, of which San Ramon is but one of four districts in the state involved, are junior or senior students at either California, San Ramon or Monte Vista High School.

Natasha Cole, coordinator of the program for the San Ramon district, oversees the selection process. In addition to the recruit-

CCC seeking juvenile aides

MARTINEZ — The County Probation Department needs volunteers to help troubled youngsters.

The children involved are classified as status offenders, runaways and youths who cannot get along with their parents.

As of Jan. 1, because of a recently adopted state law, such youngsters will be separated from actual law offenders. They are currently intermingled at Juvenile Hall.

When they move into their own unlocked wing next year, there will be a need for extra help, since only one counselor oversees 10 youngsters.

Paul Zaro, volunteer program administrator, is seeking persons to provide "a sympathetic ear, help with programs, crafts, hobbies, and sports; and tutoring in basic reading and school skills."

Zaro said he is hoping to get at least 30 volunteers to work with the 40 youngsters who will live at the hall anywhere from two to 22 days.

He suggested that anyone who can spare a few hours or a few days a week should call him at 671-4084. "We need all the help we can get," stressed Zaro. "It may make a big difference to some troubled child."

Natasha Cole is coordinator of the intern program.

pre-screened by school counselors after they apply and then she interviews them.

After the students' choices of jobs are specified, they are sent out on interviews with two or three prospective sponsors. After the interview, both the student and the sponsor rank the persons/firms they have met with. In almost all cases, the student's first choice is echoed by the sponsor.

Students work a regular work day Monday through Thursday and participate in a seminar led by Ms. Cole on Fridays. They are not compensated for time and travel other than full credit on their academic records.

The next group of interns will commence duties at the end of January.

It is an ambitious program, one that can move a senior high school student in the direction of a specific career — and a very rewarding one at that.

Ms. Cole finds that the biggest "jolt" to the student often occurs in the early weeks as they move from a structured school existence to what may be a very unstructured job...an entirely different "world."

And as Ms. Cole reminds,

Flu shots for youths

Swine flu vaccine for children will be limited but available this month.

"The U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare is not recommending any routine or extensive swine influenza vaccine program for healthy children under 18 years of age. The main reason for this is the very limited supply of the vaccine," says a news release from the Contra Costa County health department.

San Ramon residents will have to go out of town for their children's shots. Nearest clinics will be 6-8 p.m. Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 13 and 14 at John Muir Hospital, 1601 Ygnacio Valley Road, Walnut Creek; and Valley Health Center, 3730 Hopyard Road, Pleasanton, 1-3 p.m. Thursdays through Dec. 16.

Alameda County health officials have received enough vaccine to immunize 20,000 children ages 3 through 17. There will be no more vaccine this season for children.

The shots will be given on a first come, first served basis, two doses four weeks apart, according to Gloria Taylor, director of the immunization project.

So far, 85,000 persons have been immunized in Alameda County since the program began in mid-October.

Anglers' guide worth a million

Would you pay a dollar for a 35-cent booklet?

People are doing it in droves, according to East Bay Regional Park District staffer Grace Lewis, to get "The Angler's Edge," a fishing primer written by EBRPD water management specialist Bob Nuzum.

"People are just so glad to have it, they send us a dollar and say, 'Keep the change,'" Lewis reports. The booklet will be available soon at EBRPD parks such as Shadow Cliffs in Pleasanton and Del Valle in Livermore.

For now, the book is available only by mail with a 25-cent postage and handling charge bringing the total cost to 60 cents. (Send your money to EBRPD at 11500 Skyline Blvd., Oakland, 94619.)

One sports columnist said the book was "one of the finest fishing primers" he has seen, comparable to versions selling for $7.50.

In "The Angler's Edge," specialist Nuzum lists all the fish stocked at each of EBRPD's aquatic parks. He goes into detail about each species' preferred water temperature, depth and feeding habits.

Drawings and descriptions of each fish help anglers identify what they've caught. Then there's a chapter on tackle — what kind to use, how to bait a hook or tie on a leader.

Tips on that most distasteful of jobs, cleaning your catch, are included along with myriad other information to help beginners and experienced anglers alike.

Pleasanton church has jazz singer

Pleasanton's United Presbyterian Community Church welcomes the public to hear the church choir's performance of "Alleluia," a mixture of jazz and folk songs by Bill Gaither, on Sunday, Dec. 5 at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services and also at 7:30 p.m.

MARTINEZ — Roadside plant life arranged by a landscape architect and a grounds maintenance supervisor from the Contra Costa County Building and Grounds Division of Public Works provides more than pretty scenery everyday.

"The aesthetic value is the primary reason for planting grass, shrubs and the like," said Richard Marble, grounds maintenance supervisor for Contra Costa County. "But they also provide erosion control and act as dust catchers."

"When houses are situated near the highway, plant life furnishes a noise barrier," Marble continued. "Greenery also acts as a buffer zone regarding pollutants."

He explained that as a result of one of the functions of the photosynthesis process, oxygen is released into the air. This chemical element is especially beneficial along fume-laden highways.

"A 50 by 50 foot area of grass liberates enough oxygen to sustain a family of four day after day," Marble said.

"And plant life functions as an air conditioner, too," he continued. "One acre of grass has the cooling effect of a 70 ton air conditioner. That same amount of grass also gives off 2400 gallons of water on a day with temperatures of 75 degrees and up."

Landscaping helps give a softening effect against the hard lines of paved highways.

Deciding which plants to use depends on the local climate involved.

"There are 30 climate zones relating to plants in California," Marble said. "We try to choose varieties that are native to their respective areas — or that are closely related. There are thousands of varieties to select from. We also import some from Australia, South Africa and other places. The tall shrub with feathery plumes hat can be seen along interstate 680 near San Ramon is pampas grass. It is native to Argentina but grows well here in some areas."

Greenery that can remain relatively pest free and requires little maintenance or water is the first choice.

A crew of 20 men hired by the county does nothing but plant maintenance. They receive special training which is constantly being updated.

Insecticides used for pest control are rigidly controlled in content and use.

Bless Man pageant says 'We are one' in stirring terms

The story of mankind's quest for life's meaning from simple chants of the past to worship by the world's great faiths

BY LUCY HOBGOOD-BROWN

It's a rare day when no one knows for sure who is directing a cast of 500 — including the cast. It's even more unusual that such a massive production can get off the ground, especially when rehearsals must be held in high school auditoriums one day and perhaps empty lots the next due to a low treasury.

The Creative Initiative Foundation lives up to its name by being responsible for just this sort of organized mania. A non-profit educational organization, the Foundation will produce the richly - costumed pageant BLESS MAN Dec. 10 to 12 at the Masonic Auditorium in San Francisco.

A successful venture for the past five years, BLESS MAN was written by — again — an unknown committee of enthusiastic Foundation members who wanted to celebrate their organization's ultimate goal of unity through the family of man. The theme of races, religions and nations cooperating for the good of all graces the stirring production, which will include a mixture of dance, music and pageantry performed by Creative Initiative members, ranging in age from 10 to 82.

Based in the Bay Area, the Foundation is gradually growing throughout the nation. Its educational courses are aimed at finding "global solutions for life through enlightenment of the individual," an idea that was fostered more than 40 years ago only to become a successful educational process that currently involves over 2000 people in the San Francisco area.

According to Sharron Bolden, a Livermore resident and active Creative Initiative member,

"We feel a strong need to put out a positive vision of and for people."

Working with her in various enrichment courses, discussion groups and weekend seminars that promote the Foundation's goal of "one earth, one humanity, one spirit" are her husband Barry, Amador High School chemistry teacher Tom Frost and Eileen Rinde, an energetic valley mother who will perform a Peruvian dance number in BLESS MAN.

Anonymity seems to be another of Creative Initiative's goals, as Barry asserts that "no star will be featured and there will be no program." BLESS MAN, he explains, has been such a community effort, with so many people involved in its production, that the Foundation members decided to plug BLESS MAN instead.

lifestyle

By choosing Dec. 10 as BLESS MAN's opening day, the cast further reinforces BLESS MAN's theme of "We Are One" — it also happens to be United Nations Human Rights Day. The cast of 500 men, women and children will tell the story of mankind's quest for life's meaning, tracing simple chants from the dim past to expressions of worship by the world's great faiths.

Tom Frost will represent Kenya in the pageant's finale, carrying a handmade flag embroidered on silk by Creative Initiative members. Eighty nations will have their flags held high above an array of authentic international costumes. "We have each researched our own flag," says Tom, "and we know what the symbols on each mean and what the flag stands for. It's been an interesting experience — flags say a lot."

A Pleasanton resident for 12 years, Tom and his wife Gail (who will be an usher for BLESS MAN) have been involved in Creative Initiative for about five years. They are excited about the organization because it "promotes the unity of mankind through the education of the individual," according to Tom. The belief that many problems are added through tremendous technological developments without a corresponding development in vision has initiated the belief behind the perception Foundation that a new level of and understanding of mankind is needed today more than ever. Through their courses, motivational films and enrichment workshops, Creative Initiative members pursue the release of their total personalities in order to pour their unused human potentials into recognizing the birthright of humanity — that is, practicing year-round the Christmas theme of "good will among men."

Sharron and Barry Bolden will represent the African nations in BLESS MAN and according to Sharron, "It's not just a production — it's the live enactment of a dream."

Barry adds that rehearsals often turn into discussion groups instead, "where we don't just rehearse a part but also deal with concepts. The person representing Italy will try to realize how he feels about the country and people or the religion."

Eileen Rinde mentions that many of the children in the production attend are "very concept groups with their own peers and serious about their part in the finale." Her 11-year-old son will join the children in singing "If we walk the rainbow bridge, there will never be a war. We are the children of the rainbow... of hope."

BLESS MAN will open Friday, Dec. 10 at 8 p.m. Additional performances will be given Saturday, Dec. 11, at 10:30 a.m., 2:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. Sunday's performances are scheduled for 10:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. Reserved tickets are $5 and general admission is $4. Tickets may be ordered by sending a check and self-addressed envelope to BLESS MAN, P.O. Box 7538, Menlo Park, 94025. Group rates are available. For further information call 851-0909 between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Valley residents interested in Creative Initiative courses may call Sharron Bolden at 443-5534 or Eileen Rinde at 443-3875.

A cast of more than 500 joins the BLESS MAN pageant in which authentic costumes and flags of the nations of the world add to the richness of the hour-long celebration opening Dec. 10. The pageant contains a musical and visual presentation of the six major religions of the world, with the golden thread that links them together.

Editorial and Feature Page

John B. Edmands, Editor and Publisher

Pipe dream?

The Valley populace is confused. Representatives of three local governments are angry. Our economy, our future, even our right to survival, are up for grabs.

All this because of some "environmental mandate to clean up your discharge of waste water." The mandate comes from higher up, of course. Even the latest plan — a great pipeline linking us to other East Bay dischargers and thence into the North Bay — was handed down from above.

Only the final decision, and a chunk of the cost, was to come from those who live in this Valley, or would like to. Right now the odds are we might all have to move to Nevada. To start the great pollution cycle there. And so it goes.

Where it goes right now is anybody's guess. The "Valley Pipeline" which was to be a $28 million part of that "Super Sewer Line" has now been pegged at prices that are mind - boggling, impossible, even bankrupting.

The idea of spending upwards of $45 million — be that local or federal funds — just to carry off some of our waste water in a program that has a lifespan of maybe 25 years, is preposterous. If that same dollar scale were applied to the ultimate disposal of all our other wastes — garbage, polluted air etc. — the resources of this entire Valley would be committed just to retiring that indebtedness.

Livermore, Pleasanton and Dublin cannot afford such lofty "environmental standards." Neither can this nation.

Before we plunge on any further, the leadership of these several communities, their state and federal representatives, need to sit down for full review of where we're at, what we must do, and how to finance it all.

This is no invitation for those of little knowledge and sharp wit to start attacking "the establishment" — developer bunch that just wants to spend the taxpayers' money. The problem of waste discharge out of this inland basin is real, it is tough, and it will be costly.

It must also be realistic. We cannot save tomorrow's environment if it means bankrupting today's economy. What we need right now is deliverance from this whole ecological mess. Maybe that deliverance should come from above, just like all those other brilliant ideas.

Liquor prices

Did you ever wonder why a small town that couldn't support even one decent clothing store can always come up with two or more drug stores, never less than three service stations and any number of places licensed for "off - sale liquor sales"?

Whatever wonderful, old reasons America had for sustaining the "Mom and Pop stores" ... — and they are many — the hard truth is that great numbers of these businesses have been unable to survive the advent of modern merchandising, volume buying and the inevitable "chain."

Drug stores, liquor stores and gas stations are persistent exceptions to this change. The reason, too often, is that the retail price of prescription drugs, of a bottle of "name brand" booze and of nearly all gasoline is pre - determined by law, tradition or cartel.

Can the "little liquor store" survive if such "price fixing" is abolished? The best of them will, we believe. They will survive just as the "specialty dress shop" next door to Macy's manages to do very well indeed; they might even expand, just as the Mervyn's department store system has flourished, while Grant's and White Front were going under.

This free - enterprise system is rough on the marginal operator, but it has never failed to reward hard work and ingenuity. For most consumers, particularly in this enlightened era, price is still secondary to quality, consistency and service.

And that is why we believe there will always be a place for those enterprising people who meet our need for wines and spirits, gourmet goodies and party favors ... and all at the lowest prices our system of "supply and demand" will allow.

Those who care

This is that season when we are invited to think of others. It is easy, satisfying even, to remember those near and dear to us. It is never quite the same when we might respond to a stranger, one more faceless person in the bothersome picture of "A world in need."

Whatever our own suburban plight — taxes, inflation, a lost job even — our cross is nothing compared to the burden that others must carry.

It has been said that "Americans cannot know poverty until they travel beyond this nation's borders." Few of us can journey into Africa, to tour first hand the devastated outback of Turkey, the crowded morass that is much of India. But we might still send our message of understanding to those suffering peoples.

Most churches maintain programs for relief in other lands. You might inquire; you could respond.

An alternative program which we have always felt does the greatest good for the least cost is CARE ... the world - wide venture that distributes foodstuffs to critical areas, efficiently, honestly, and at remarkably little cost.

One five dollar donation to CARE can provide up to 30 children with a hot dish, every day for a month. Ten dollars gives as many as 3000 children a protein-enriched breakfast.

If you would like to participate, your gift sent can be sent through — CARE Food Crusade, 690 Market St., San Francisco, 94104.

The week in retrospect

Christmas Spirit

"And a child shall lead them." In the hustle and bustle of the Christmas season we oftentimes lose sight of the little daily occurrences and activities that can "top off" or make the season pleasant for those less fortunate.

I speak of the children in schools throughout the valley who collect toys or bring in canned goods or, with the guidance of their teachers, put on musical presentations for community members.

Two of the former "good deeds" that come to mind involve students at Wells School in Dublin.

At Thanksgiving these seventh and eighth graders collected almost 900 canned good items for distribution through the Childrens Emergency Council in Dublin.

The same students have just completed bringing in many boxes full of toys that will be taken by Toys for Town and distributed to children throughout the Bay Area.

While it may seem like such a small, routine effort, it is the type that rarely gets more than a passing nod of publicity ... yet it can be just the endeavor to turn a bleak Christmas into a bright one for some family caught in the economic crunch.

We have become so blasé that the annual multitude of Christmas concerts by our school children are taken for granted. But they are an integral part of "the season."

Can you imagine a December with no Christmas programs, no toy, clothing or canned food drives?

I sometimes wonder if children don't understand the Spirit of Christmas better than some adults ... who have become hardened by materialism and the realities of every day life ... and who perhaps use this as an unwitting excuse for the loss of innocence.

We shall survive for and because of our children.

As adults we can share in the Spirit of Christmas in many ways. May I present one materialistic - sounding way before closing.

That would be participation in a display reflecting the Christmas season at your residence. This can take the form of a few lights, a wreath, a decorated tree or a full outside display such as encouraged by the Pleasanton Jaycees.

The Jaycees have their Third Annual Christmas Home Decorating Contest underway and invite you to participate.

If you wish to enter, please drop a post card to Pleasanton Jaycees, 10 W Neal St., Pleasanton 94566, by Saturday, Dec. 18.

While the event is limited to the Pleasanton area, I believe there are other similar contests in other parts of the valley. For those living in Livermore, San Ramon or Dublin wishing more information, I would suggest you contact your respective Chambers of Commerce.

Letters to the Times

Concerned teacher

To The Times:

An open letter to parents and educators:

I can only assume that you feel the same way about the education of your child as I feel about the education of my own children. I think you ... should be very concerned about the future of education in this country, and, in particular, this community. ...

Education has been under constant attack for as long as there have been teachers. (Christ was criticized when He taught in the temple.)

The attitude of the community, parents, administrators, school board and public toward teachers and education has changed and deteriorated drastically in the past decade. When I came to Pleasanton School District in 1967, teachers were very scarce. The few of us that applied ... were treated as though we were a valued integral part of the education system.

School board members were diligent in seeing that our needs and desires were satisfied. ... Teachers felt that the Board ... would listen to us with open minds.

After attending the School Board Meeting on December 1, I feel that this feeling of helpfulness and cooperation ... no longer is present. ...

Parents, in 1967, were genuinely interested in their child's education ... Now, parents are too ready to blame the teachers and the school for all of the problems of their children. We only have your child a total of 35 hours each week, out of a possible 112 waking hours.

Teachers are no longer being treated as though they are a valued, integral part of the educational system. Where would the schools be without teachers? Teachers are professional people who have been trained for years. ...

We are trying to be ... parent, teacher, counselor, friend and guardian to your child ... but we must also live. ... It is nice if the wages paid a teacher happen to be a second income for a family, but if a teacher's wage is the only income for a growing family, it would be next to impossible for the main "bread winner" not to take on a second job. ...

I am concerned about the education of your child. I am also concerned about the parent attitude of the administration toward the teachers. ...

We need your support. ...

Water puzzle

Editor, The Times:

... the developers of Southern California raped the Owens Valley, taking the water to Los Angeles. When that ran out, they took it from the Colorado River until that is about gone. The latest "swindle" involves the waters of Central and Northern California. ...

Proposition "U" was but a small part of a grandiose scheme to "Save the Bay." ... why is there so much money to spend convincing you and me that the "Super Sewer" is some kind of a panacea for all our ills? There are more questions one might ask about how the promoters were able to buy, fool or otherwise "snow" Valley leaders into supporting such a rip-off. ...

There is no certainty that the waters gathered into the "Super Sewer" will "Save the Bay" from the abuses of the past half century but at worst, it probably will do no harm except to put a great many people deep in debt. ... What will it do for us? Shall we let them rape this valley too? ...

Reading from "Clean Water," a propaganda brochure published by John C. Carolo Engineers ... "The San Francisco Bay Regional Water Quality Control Board has promulgated very stringent wastewater discharge requirements for the effluent ... due to the fact ... water flows into the groundwater supply of neighboring communities." ... "These existing treatment plants cannot presently treat wastewater to a degree necessary to meet their discharge requirements." Can you understand asking the outfit that stand to build the project to rule on whether or not it needs to be built?

First, let's ask why ... the money wouldn't better be spent improving the standards of treatment? ... Why do you suppose the standards for this area are greater than those for "over 200 planned reclamation operations in California that use reclaimed water ...

... why it is that the quality of water we are "Told" to pump over the hill is of a better quality than that which will continue to "pollute" the waters of the Niles Cone from natural flood water runoff after the project is in operation? Can you believe that there may be another scheme in the offing to make you and me responsible for the quality of the natural flood water runoff from this valley? And if so, why are "U" not planning to pump fifty million gallons over the hill daily?

... it becomes obvious we are being force fed meaningless bull borrowed from who know where, to "hard sell" a scheme that is half-baked at best.

Round the town

I see where Jimmy Carter has named Bob Lipshutz as his White House counsel.

This is a wise move, and one that portends good things from the Carter administration. For one thing, there will be no "Watergate scandals" in the Carter White House.

Not that Jimmy's boys will do no wrong. But they sure won't get caught at it! Not with Bob Lipshutz in charge of counseling the president.

That was Richard Nixon's problem. John Dean was his White House counsel. Dean was a good attorney. But a terrible talker. Simply couldn't keep a secret. He blabbed all through the Watergate affair. He's been blabbing ever since. Most recently in book form. They say a movie is inevitable.

"Dean Tells All About The Sins of Watergate."

Dean is making a handsome income from "telling all." Well, not quite all. He misses a personal sin here and there. No matter. Do movie goers care about Judas' private life? Just get us down to the hanging. Skip the details.

Bob Lipshutz is never going to squeal. Or write a book. Or make a bundle from a movie. "Bob Lipshutz Tells All About the Carter Sins." It would never sell. Who is going to believe that a guy with name like "Lipshutz" is for real? Let alone a squealer.

Carter is no dum - dum. Take his new secretary of state. Cyrus B. Vance. Now there's a name that sounds like a Secretary of State.

I liked Henry Kissinger, I guess. But quite frankly, when Henry would appear on national tv, making world - shaking pronouncements, I never knew when to cry and when to laugh.

Henry Kissinger looked like the American dream of Iskabibil. He sounded like the fat, funny guy in those American movies about hilarious German concentration camps. But most of all, there was his name. Henry Kissinger. I wonder where the world would be today, if the Republicans had had a Cyrus R. Vance to handle our nation's foreign affairs.

Vance rhymes with Lance. Which just happens to be Jimmy Carter's choice for Director of the Office and Management Budget. Thomas Bertram Lance. That's the man.

Gives you that real comfortable feeling doesn't it. I mean, with Vance and Lance running things, and Lipshutz screening everything to and from the president, what possible chance is there that we will hear a single bad word about our president in the next four years? I can't wait for Jimmy's choice of a director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. How much wanna bet that Dick Tracy isn't in line for the job?

For Director of the CIA Sherlock Holmes — who else? Secretary of Defense? (all together now ...) Daddy Warbucks!

"The secret to a successful presidency is the delegation of authority." That was Dwight David Eisenhower's theory. Worked well, back then. Times have changed.

Americans don't care so much the way our president hands out authority as they do who gets that authority. I mean, any fool can pull together a cabinet. It takes a political genius — or a guy who really knows his peanuts — to create a first team with names like Vance, Lance and Lipshutz.

Quick now ... What three players make up baseball's finest - ever infield? Answer — Tinkers - to - Evers - to - Chance. Is it really true? Who cares? The important thing is, it sounds right!

And that's what Jimmy Carter is going to do for America, folks. He sounds right! Surrounded by folks with right - sounding names. From the right - sounding places.

With Amy Carter enrolled in the fourth grade at Stevens Integrated Public Elementary School, does anyone really doubt that our nation is headed for the best four years ever!

For the answer, check with Amy's eighth grade teacher. Her name? — Miz Georgia Washington Fallsafe of course.

Poetic justice

I have to hand it to Alameda County Tax Collector Frank M. Krause. The man is a poet. He has a little slogan stamped on the tax bills he sends homeowners. It says, "Taxes paid on time don't draw a fine". "Time" and "fine" really are near - rimes (in the poet's jargon), but it shows class in Krause's literary effort anyway.

Krause's epic has me thinking that we need more slogans from our public officials and departments. Over at the county welfare department they may want to stamp this little jingle on their envelopes: "Who says we don't care? Here's your check from welfare".

Or the aforementioned assessor, Krause, may want to improve on his own little jingle, add more menace and realistic language: "If you don't pay Krause, we'll take your house". And "Easy on the ale or we'll see you in jail" is a handy reminder from the sheriff's department to all those potential drunk drivers in this holiday season.

"Preventing a blaze really pays" is a good slogan for any fire department but to my mind the best slogans already have been minted for highway and traffic safety departments. They have been done by that great American poet, Burma Shave.

For those of you to young to recall, Burma worked in roadside signs and this one recalled by Freida Batten of the Dublin Library is as good as any for a highway department: "Is he lonely? Is he just blind? That guy who drives so close behind?" And finally there is: "Drinking drivers, nothing worse; they put the quart before the hearse — Burma Shave".

New GOP?

There is a great deal of talk these days of "dismantling the Republican Party" in order to come up with a brand new outlet "for Americans conservative political persuasion."

Even those who do not advocate a change in name still thump for "a change in direction" for the Grand Old Party. John B. Connally is included in that group, and he would "be available" as party chairman, should the "new directions" be to his liking, of course.

Ronald Reagan might come forward to chair "The New Party" if that should arise from the ashes of GOP's burning. It is all very heady stuff. It is also very Hollywood.

Granted, there would seem to be room in this largest, most vibrant of "free nations" for more than two major political points of view. We can all recall when the several Southern States were making moves toward a break from the Democratic Party which the southerners felt no longer represented their view, or their goals. The election of a Georgian as president of all these United States was hardly envisioned then.

The GOP's one - time and ill - fated venture into Goldwater Republicanism was yet another evidence of "new politics" but still within the old, established framework. We are a nation that refuses to be held within tight meets and bounds, or even within the last platform of our own party.

California is known as "the maverick state" ... swinging from the "cross - over" candidacy of Earl Warren to the conservatism of a Reagan and finally the new - breed brashness of a Jerry Brown. The swing from Rafferty to Riles in that most sensitive State School Superintendency was also "very unusual."

But other states give evidence of being just as unusual in their movement away from old traditions, and old partisan labels. The party banner is no longer as important as the individual's appeal; television has seen to that. And, because of other penetrating news abilities, last year's election here quickly becomes this year's goat; Richard Nixon is a recent example.

It would seem then, there is very little that is constant in America's political loyalties, or even the American political party. While there is much activism in the "liberal sector" — reported largely by a "liberal" wing of the working press — the trend of these United States has been on a conservative bent.

Richard Nixon was a well - known "Communist - bating" conservative when he won two terms as president, the last by the greatest plurality in modern times. When the Democrats had opportunity to end that Republican domination of the White House, they turned not to Udall, Harris, Humphrey or any of the other attractive liberals of that party; they chose rather a former governor from the deep south who might be every bit as conservative as Gerald Ford, if not more so.

It appears there is nothing rock - ribbed about the Democratic Party's liberalism, any more than the GOP is locked into the other extreme of that particular distinction. Each party reserves the right to swing within its own limits, and it was that option which carried us from Humphrey to Carter in just eight years; from Eisenhower to Goldwater in the span of two GOP conventions.

Given that freedom of choice, there seems little reason for concern about our being locked into this extreme or that, even while we politick within just two major parties.

Let the Reaganites "take over" the Republican Party for a convention or two, if they can muster there kind of persuasion. And when that party's faithful are no longer persuaded, they will march to another piper's tune.

Creating "a new Republican Party" with "new goals and a new name" is an exercise in semantic folly. The two - party system has served this nation well for almost 200 years. It has proven more stable, and considerably more productive than the multi - partied approach by most other countries in the free world.

More parties and new titles isn't our answer. More people involved in the system we already have is.

Dr. Lamb

DEAR DR. LAMB — I am 77 years of age and feel fine. The doctor claims I have diabetes on the basis of tests although I have none of the symptoms such as thirst, weight loss or frequent urination. He wants an expensive check every two months which I feel is excessive. I test my urine which is sugar free.

Having spent over $1,300 with this doctor and not showing any symptoms, I would appreciate any advice you can offer.

DEAR READER — The

symptoms of diabetes you mention occur after the disease had advanced to the point that one is losing a lot of sugar in the urine. Many diabetics are asymptomatic. It is an oversimplification, but the mildest diabetic has a normal fasting test, and diabetes is found only with blood tests taken after drinking sugar water or after eating. The next most severe diabetic may have an abnormally high fasting blood glucose level. Finally, the more advanced diabetic will have symptoms. The early diabetic is often overweight until the weight-loss phase begins.

It would be difficult to know if your doctor's charges are excessive or not without knowing all of your problems and what you have had done. If you think you have been overcharged you should ask the doctor about it. If you are still not satisfied I would suggest that you take the matter up with the county medical society. The society will have a board to handle such complaints and will review your case for you.

I am sending you The Health Letter number 3-11, Diabetes: Diagnosis, Prevention and Management. Others who want this information can send 50 cents with a long stamped self-addressed envelope for it. Just send your letter to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Seven years ago I had a large planar wart burned out of the ball of my foot. Scar tissue formed in the hole. As I walk a callous builds up, and I shift my weight to my other foot, so now my hip is bothering me. I trim this callous once a week.

Is there any possible way I could have this scar tissue completely removed from my foot? And what kind of doctor should I see about it?

DEAR READER — I hate to use you as a bad example but that is what your case represents. One can burn out warts from many locations or they can be cut out, but one shouldn't do this with a planar wart. Why? Because too often a painful scar develops, and then one has a sore foot. Warts will disappear in time. Even if it takes five or six years it is better to suffer with the wart and apply local treatment to the bottom of the foot than it is to have it cut or burned out.

Johnny Wonder's QUESTION CORNER

Q. "WHAT IS HEAT LIGHTNING?"

A. HEAT LIGHTNING IS THE FLASHES OF LIGHT PRODUCED BY DISTANT ELECTRICAL STORMS. THE FLASHES OF LIGHTNING OCCUR TOO FAR AWAY FOR THUNDER TO BE HEARD.

MICHELLE VENTURE REYNOLDSVILLE, PA

Sometimes, on warm summer evenings, we see so-called "heat lightning" — silent flashes of light in the distant sky.

Heat lightning is really light from a flash of chain lightning that takes place beyond the horizon. Chain, or forked, lightning is the lightning you see zig-zagging across the sky in any thunderstorm.

We just don't hear heat lightning's thunder because we are too far away. We don't see the lightning, either. We see its light reflected from high clouds.

Lightning is a big electric spark that spears its way across the sky. During a thunderstorm, electrical charges are built up in the clouds. If the charges become great enough, a flash of lightning occurs.

As the lightning flashes across the sky, it quickly heats the air in its path.

The heated air expands (spreads out) rapidly and sets a great sound wave in motion which we hear a few moments later as thunder.

For Sunday, Dec. 5, 1976

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Do something where you can utilize both your mental and physical capabilities today. Your best: An outdoor sport that takes two to play.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Personal advantage comes today more from manging what another has than from trying to promote what you have. You're a good impresario.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) In partnership situations today get the ball rolling, then let your counterpart assume the more prominent role in a joint undertaking.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) It won't be hard to acquire willing helpers today. Just make your needs known. Someone will be there to do the legwork.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You're still in a very beneficial cycle where your prestige or self-image is concerned. You're handling yourself so as to draw favorable attention.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) In negotiations centering on your work or career today, don't be afraid to ask what you think you're worth. You're desired and can get it.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Perhaps times or conditions won't permit you to do just what you'd like to, but a trip to some place different will at least give you some respite.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Your financial possibilities look good today from two entirely different sources. Stay on top of anything that looks like a money-maker.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Although you have a warm and easy manner that endears you to any crowd today, you'll enjoy yourself more with special someone than you will with a group.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If you have a project that's important to you, lay the groundwork as quietly as possible. Later you can bring it all out in the open.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You stand out in a crowd today. Your charismatic appeal will draw people to you who'll seek your advice and counsel.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) People are voicing nice sentiments about you behind your back today. More important: Another is doing something to pleasantly surprise you.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

Oswald: "Good players tend to overbid to game. They expect to play the hand well and they also look for help from the defenders."

Jim: "South's two notrump bid was based on the above theory. He did hold eleven high-card points, but there were no kings, only one ace and a worthless doubleton in his partner's rebid suit. East had made a really poor diamond overcall and if West had opened a diamond South would have romped home. Instead West led his fourth best heart. East took his ace and led back the eight spot. South played low since dummy's jack was there to protect his queen. If West had played correctly and stuck in the ten, South would have had no play for his contract and probably would have gone down two. But for some unaccountable reason West rose with the king and led back a heart to South's queen."

Oswald: "I can account for it. The spirit who looks after overbidders was there to cause the misplay and South took full advantage. He was in his hand with the queen. He led a club, finessed dummy's jack, returned to his hand with the ace of spades, repeated the club finesse and wound up with game and rubber."

Gaffney wins all-around

CONCORD — Joline Gaffney of Monte Vista High School won the all-around championship of the advanced division of the North Coast Section girls' gymnastics championships at Ygnacio Valley High School last night.

She took first in the balance beam and second in the floor exercise in taking the victory. She scored an outstanding 63.00.

Kathy Chapman of Monte Vista finished third in the all-around competition with a 59.05 score.

Jacelyn Shiro of Tamalpais was second with a 60.02 score.

Intermediate compulsory competition saw Jol Gaffney of Monte Vista finish fourth in the vaulting competition with an 8.75 total.

She was the only EBAL athlete to place in the top five of any event in the intermediate compulsory competition.

Gaffney won the EBAL advanced all-around title with a 32.40 score that included three wins and a second in the individual competition.

Kazumimorimoto of Del Valle won the vaulting event with an excellent 8.25. Norimoto of the same school took the all-around intermediate compulsory title with a 34.25 total. Norimoto won the balance beam, uneven parallel bars and floor exercise. She had an outstanding 8.7 in the uneven bars.

Rhonda Campbell of Livermore placed third in the overall class for beginners in competition Friday.

Campbell used a second place finish in the uneven parallel bars to spring her way to a 31.85 total and the third spot.

She also finished fifth in the beam competition and floor exercise. She totaled 8.05 in both events.

Cindy Sharp of Livermore placed well with a 29.45 overall total.

Jacque Futch of Granada was second in the floor exercise with a 8.45 total.

Betsy Skellinger of San Ramon won the vaulting competition with an 8.05 total.

Carli Patterson of Clayton Valley won the overall title with a 33.30 total. She won the floor exercise with an 8.65 score, the beam with an 8.60 total and was third in the uneven parallel bars.

Laura Sitts of San Ramon was fifth in the vault with a 7.55 which left her one point out of the top five in the overall standings.

Freeman, Davis win titles

Granada and Dublin showed strong prowess yesterday in the mammoth Granada High School Wrestling Invitational in Livermore.

The Mats sent five wrestlers to the finals to lead all schools by a long shot while the heavy-laden Gaels landed spots in the two highest weight classes.

Granada's Roy Davis breezed through the 112-pound class in overpowering fashion, by pinning all four of his opponents, culminated by a 36 second pin of Mt. Eden's Steve Kirchner in the championship match.

The Mats' Brett Nadeau and Mike Laflin both reached the finals, but lost in their championship bouts. Nadeau dropped a tough 6-4 loss to Kennedy's Dan Roderiquez after jumping off to a 4-2 lead in the 127-pound final.

Laflin, meanwhile, went into overtime in his match with San Ramon's Dave Arrighi, after the wrestlers dualed to a 4-4 tie in regulation play. Arrighi took a slim 2-1 victory in overtime.

Davis reached the finals by virtue of three straight pins. The trite Granada senior led off the day by sticking Jeff Gonzales of Newark at 1:06, followed by a 47 second smashing of San Leandro's Frank Flores, reaching the finals with a pin of San Ramon's Blake Rothfuss at 1:25.

Nadeau started off the day with a 24 second pin of Liberty's Jose Gonzales. He then flattened American's Vince Pagomo before beating San Lorenzo's Tom Anaya in the semi-finals, 8-2.

Drawing a first-round bye and picking up a second round forfeit Laflin eased into the finals by virtue of a 6-3 win over San Lorenzo's Greg Hunter.

Granada's Bill Freeman mowed through his opponents much like Davis did, pinning all four of his opponents, in the 165-pound division.

He pinned American's John Lewis with 1:56 left in the second period.

Brent Dixon pulled out a tough 12-2 win over Livermore's Dave Farfan to reach the finals. Earlier in the day, Dixon pinned Sam Spear of American and California's Rudy Gonzales.

Dublin proved to be effective in the heavyweights as King pinned San Ramon's Dave Nieberhizer at 1:17. King had earlier defeated two opponents.

Larry Bright, heavy-weight from Dublin, dropped an identical 8-5 score to Sunset's Dale Garrison.

Bright drew a first round bye and topped Newark's Bob Looney in the quarter finals.

Third place winners included Livermore's Wynn Paculba and Ward Dixon of Granada in the 95-pound division, Shannon Grishman of Dublin in the 103's. Kevin Shimabuku of Foothill in the 112's and Dublin's Dennis Cole in the 133-pound division. The tournament awarded third place medals to three competitors in each division.

Other third place winners included Robbie Compton (138), and Scott Rychnovsky, (154) of Granada, and Livermore's Dave Farfan (175) and Dave Daley (191).

Freeman, wrestling in the tough 165's, pinned Mt. Eden's Keith Karrington at 47 seconds before pasting Cal's Bill Moyer and defeating Bill Sousa of Sunset, 10-1.

Granada wrestlers Brent Dixon (175) and Dublin's Jerome King (191) finished second in their weight classes. Dixon fell to Most Valuable Player Bob Worthington of Acalanes, 7-3 while King dropped a 8-5 decision to Kennedy's Ken Smith.

The Gaels' Bright pulled out a rugged 3-1 win over San Ramon's Phil Bush, setting up his final match with Garrison.

Granada won the team championship with 195 points. Mt. Eden followed with 106. San Ramon's Steve Ramos also had the Most Valuable Player award.

Crestmoor too quick, Falcons' streak ends

SAN BRUNO — It ended here yesterday afternoon after only two games, but Foothill High School's miniature unbeaten string will have a positive carryover affect, according to Falcon coach Tom Hansen.

"The kids are now realizing that they can win," he said after Foothill had succumbed to host Crestmoor's zone press and fast break, 69-56, to drop to a record of 2-1 for the non-league basketball season.

They just don't think we can go out onto an athletic field and lose." But lose they did, despite an "on" performance by hot and cold center Steve Sperber, who scored 26 and grabbed 10 rebounds. Sperber and teammate Lane Joseph were held out of the starting line-up for disciplinary reasons.

And while Sperber finally entered the game with 2:33 left in the first quarter, Joseph never did get in. He wasn't being punished, though.

"He gives us a lot of board strength," Hansen said. "But against a quick team like Crestmoor, we didn't have any place to put him."

Starting forward Rick Rosenbach, praised by Hansen as one of the Falcons' best players, found himself in a similar predicament as Foothill was forced to go with its quicker, but smaller, players.

To make things worse, Phil Moore suffered a bruised tailbone falling off of a truck recently, and did not suit up.

"And he's our best rebounder," Hansen groaned. Crestmoor, bolstered by a pair of transfers and four returning starters in their bid for a Mid-Peninsula

League play-off spot, swarmed all over the visitors from the opening tip.

With guards Dave Fosson and Solomona Laupua darting about menacingly in their point positions, the hosts picked up six steals in the final three minutes of the first period alone as Crestmoor nearly broke the game open.

At one point, Fosson stole the ball at mid-court, drove for a lay-up and stole the Falcons inbound pass for an easy drop shot. Twenty seconds later, he took a pass from Laupua to can his sixth point in less than a minute.

When two free throws by former Burlingame star Jim Stewart, who finished with 19 points to lead Crestmoor, put the hosts up, 20-9, San Bruno's version of the Falcons cleared their bench with 6:46 to go in the second quarter.

The move was premature, however, and coach Pete Pontacq began returning his starters less than a minute later when Foothill's adjustments began to pay off.

The closest the Falcons could come, though, was two back when a pair of foul shots by Robert MacDonald made it 27-25, with 3:09 left in the half.

But after the explosive 23-point second quarter, the Falcons never got closer than six to Bruce Berry and late arriving sixth man Joe Vella took over the zone press and kept Foothill at arm's length from the ever-increasing Crestmoor lead.

Clifford's shot sinks Lakers

OAKLAND — There doesn't seem to be room in basketball for the little man anymore.

At least that's the impression one got last night at the Coliseum Arena as the Golden State Warriors again had to hold off an opponents' late game charge, beating the Los Angeles Lakers, 116-114.

The win, Golden State's fourth straight, was also its first of the year by a margin of less than eight points.

It ended with all three of the Warriors' talked-about centers on the court.

After LA had taken only its second lead of the night, 114-113, on a follow-away jumper by Lucis Allen with 23 seconds left, Warrior coach Al Attles went to a two-center offense, and, finally, a three-center defense. Immediate dividends resulted. Not wanting to place their faith in one due-or-die shot the Warriors extended only 14 seconds before Clifford Ray put Golden State ahead with an 11-foot bank nine ticks from the enu.

Then, after a Laker timeout, rookie Robert Parish, in the game for the first time, didn't press the inbound pass in the traditional manner. Instead, he forced the ball out of the corner and away from the lane.

The Lakers got two shots from Kareem Abdul Jabbar, but Ray raked in the second to insure the victory, icing the cake with a meaningless free throw that finalized the score.

Rams win, SF eliminated

LOS ANGELES — Lawrence McCutcheon ran for three touchdowns and the Los Angeles defense throttled the Atlanta Falcons Saturday for a 59-0 victory that gave the Rams their fourth straight National Football Conference Western Division title.

McCutcheon gained 121 yards in 20 carries even though Coach Chuck Knox took him out midway in the third quarter. The 59 points were the most by any Los Angeles team since 1950.

Rookie quarterback Pat Haden completed 13 of 21 passes for 214 yards as Los Angeles boosted its record to 9-3-1, eliminating division runnerup San Francisco. Atlanta absorbed its ninth loss against four wins.

Tom Dempsey booted field goals of 42 and 29 yards. McCutcheon's touchdowns came on a run of four yards and two of one each, but he also turned in a 40-yard-dash that set up another touchdown and was the longest run for a Ram this season.

The afternoon production boosted his season total to 1,144, bettering his own Los Angeles record of 1,019 in 1974.

Haden ran one yard for the first Ram touchdown.

But even Superman couldn't withstand kryptonite. The Republicans abhor Watergate and "The Fonz" hates liver.

Now, Granada High basketball coach Pat Fracisco has found his team's worst enemy — the full court zone press courtesy of Northgate High.

Fracisco, a peppery coach, saw his team take a two-point halftime lead and proceed to self-destruct in dropping a 77-51 non-league decision in front of a boisterous Bronco gathering.

Not that star 6-7 center Joey Wujek didn't do everything within his power to rescue his teammates.

Wujek poured in 27 points, 21 in the first half, while pulling down 20 of Granada's 36 rebounds.

But even Superman needs a Jimmy Olson and Lois Lane now and then.

In the frantic first period, Wujek dropped in seven points to pace the Mats to a 15-13 quarter lead. He tanked 14 of Granada's 18 second-period points as the East Bay's 15th rated squad trotted into the locker room up 33-31.

The second half, however, was a different ball game.

Granada came out playing as if they spent the entire intermission in a clothes dryer.

The Matadors developed a sudden allergy to the basketball as the Broncos press sent the befuddled Mats into all directions, none of which was near their basket.

"We shut them off inside and our guards did a great job of keeping the ball away from their big man (Wujek)," Northgate coach Bud Bartz said afterward.

In the dreadful third quarter, Bronco guard Dave Challis sunk 10 of his 21 points and Jim Swan added nine in the period as Northgate galloped to a 21-8 advantage and led 52-39 entering the final stanza.

Wujek managed only one field goal in the third quarter and added only four points in the final period as the Broncos mercilessly outscored Granada, 25-10.

Because of the tight defense, the Matadors were twice called for 10 seconds in the backcourt and on two other occasions threw passes that were so far from opponents they would've been intentional grounding penalties if it were football.

On that same line, football hero Vance Rushing — who saw plenty of action as guard Friday night — perhaps depicted the Matadors' frustration when he was whistled for a technical foul with 4:45 remaining after slamming the basketball to the floor. Rushing was oh-for-five from the field and oh-for-two from the foul line.

Fracisco, understandably disappointed with the loss, refused comment but his counterpart gave a spirited talk after the rout.

"It was a big ball game for us," Bartz said as he stuffed a chocolate cupcake in his mouth.

The blond Bronco skipper praised the work of Wujek, saying, "Joey is a good player. A super player."

The run-and-gun Broncos agreed.

Bob Buckley, a senior who considered himself the team's sixth man but started nonetheless, said Wujek was the best individual the team has faced in its four unbeaten games this season.

Center Lon Hansen, assigned the difficult task of guarding Wujek much of the night, asked about the Matador star's point total. When informed, Hansen just shook his head and walked away.

Granada after demolishing Kennedy High of Fremont last Tuesday, is 1-1. Northgate, ranked No. 3 in the East Bay this week, upped its mark to 4-0.

Northgate won the junior varsity contest 67-52. Ed Jessop led Granada with 13 points.

Kane, Roberson on PCAA team

Rayford Roberson and Rick Kane of San Jose State University have been named to the all-Pacific Coast Athletic Association football team for 1976.

Roberson, a sophomore linebacker from Dublin High School, was one of four SJ players named to the first-team defense. Running back Kane, a senior from Amador Valley High School, joined six other Spartans on the first-team offensive club.

Kane became the Spartans' all-time rushing leader despite being injured much of the season.

San Jose quarterback Steve DeBerg was named the PCAA offensive Player of the year. Cal State Fullerton linebacker Aaron Ball won the top defensive honors.

Other Spartans selected to the offensive unit included receiver Gary Maddocks, center Paul Kessler, guard Tim Toews, tackle John Bain and tight end Vic Rakhshani. Wilson Famauna, and Fred Ford, two linemen, and defensive back Gerald Small also made the defensive team.

Poor start foils Dublin

UNION CITY — For Dublin High's basketball team, first and second halves just don't mix.

The Gaels outscored host James Logan High 35-26 in the second half, but were walloped by twice that margin in the initial half and fell to the Colts, 62-52, Friday night.

The loss dropped The Gaels' pre-season record to 0-2, while the Colts improved to 3-1. Earlier this year, the Union City school knocked off another East Bay Athletic League team, California, 50-49.

The Gaels were slow to move the ball in the first half and found themselves looking up from a 36-17 halftime deficit.

Mike Harris provided most of Dublin's offense during that time, chalking up the Gaels' first two field goals of the game after over four minutes had elapsed.

Blake Chong, who fooled Cal with his ball-handling, did likewise to Dublin by scoring 26 points and leading all scorers for the Colts, including eight in the second quarter.

That quarter proved to be the downfall for Dublin, as they were outscored 26-10.

In the final half Dan Pearson, fresh out of his football uniform, came on to spur the Gaels to a mild comeback by scoring nine points. The comeback effort was a little too late, though.

Harris led all Dublin scorers with 19 points, while Pearson added nine and Dennis Barnes seven.

After Chong's 26-point effort, Archie Cox tallied nine for the Colts while Leo Sacramento and Ed Butler scored eight each.

Bad shooting seals Dons' fate

BRENTWOOD — A poor shooting performance from the field was the key as Amador Valley High School dropped its second 'squeaker' in a row, a 57-54 decision to host Liberty Friday night in a non-league basketball game.

The Dons made just 16 of 46 field goal attempts in the loss. Liberty didn't do a much better job, as the Lions hit on 18 of 49 field goal attempts.

Amador failed to get rebounds after missed free throw attempts three times in the closing minutes and that proved to be the decisive margin.

AV had clung to a narrow lead through the first three quarters but Liberty gained the lead quickly in the final period and held on for the win.

The Lions hit the first two hoops of the quarter, one a lay-up by Ron Pato after an Amador Valley turnover and mounted a 46-43 lead. Liberty increased the margin to 53-45 with 5:33 left before the Dons pulled back to within three on a John Sevo jumper. Don Hall hit a jumper to put AV within two, 53-51 but the Lions then extended their lead to 57-52 and held on for the victory.

The Dons stayed in the contest in the third quarter bascially with their free-throw shooting. Amador put away 11 of 15 charity attempts in that quarter, getting Liberty in deep foul trouble.

But the Dons failed to convert a field goal, despite shooting four or five times from within five feet, until Sevo swished the nets with 46 seconds remaining in the period.

Guard Mike Hansen led AV with 14 points and Hall added 10 markers. Greg Morse, getting some garbage shots in the final minutes, paced the Lions with 13. Pato garnered 12.

Amador won the junior varsity clash, 46-45.

Texas coach resigns

AUSTIN, Tex. — University of Texas Coach Darrell Royal met with the school athletic council Saturday afternoon and a school source said Royal had submitted his resignation as football coach and would stay on as athletic director.

N. Neils Thomson, chairman of the athletic council, said an official announcement would be made after the game between Arkansas and Texas.

Royal, a native of Hollis, Okla., was a quarterback and defensive back at Oklahoma in 1946-49.
